

CONTENTS

	Page
Executive Summary	7
1 The Shape of the Industry	13
1.1 - Background	13
1.1.1 - Trends	14
1.2 - The old car industry: failure of the American model?	16
1.3 - Ford, Budd, mass production and the shape of the car industry	20
- Operating on the margins of mass production: Australia	23
1.4 - The new car industry: the BRIC	29
1.4.1 - Not just new cars	29
- Trade in used cars	31
- Logistics	32
2 The Automotive Sector as a Diverse Ecosystem	35
2.1 - Cars as an ecosystem?	35
2.1.1 - Diversity in markets	36
2.2 - Stretching the brand	38
2.3 - Segmentation	41
2.4 - Segment shifts	43
2.5 - Future segment shift?	43
2.5.1 - Technocar	43
2.5.2 - Ecocar	44
2.5.3 - Plutocar	45
2.5.4 - Valuecar	45
2.6 - The value brand is here today	46
- Case Study: Renault/Dacia Logan	47
3 Changing Supply Chains	51
3.1 - Materials supply	56
3.2 - Metals, China and the automotive industry	57
3.3 - The price of steel	58
4 Technology and Environment	61
4.1 - Using environmental regulation for competitive advantage	62
- GM's electric tradition; the EV-1	63
- Chevrolet Volt	64
4.2 - Emerging carbon reduction technologies and their state of play	66
4.2.1 - Biofuels	66
4.2.2 - Gaseous fuels and GTL	67
4.2.3 - Hybrids	68
4.2.4 - Battery electric	69
4.2.5 - Plug-in hybrids	70
4.2.6 - Fuel cells	70
4.3 - Improving internal combustion (IC) and conventional powertrain	75
- Ferrari Millechili	77
4.4 - Green SUV – a contradiction in terms?	78

	Page
5 And the Future?	83
5.1 - Cost	83
5.2 - Asian expansion continues	84
5.3 - A third world miracle	85
- Tata Nano technical specification	86
5.4 - Localism and globalism: geography of the automotive industry	89
- Can the industry meet demand growth for new cars?	89
5.5 - Clusters	90
5.5.1 - British Columbia	90
5.5.2 - California	91
5.5.3 - Other locations	92
- Iceland's hydrogen economy	93
5.6 - The Asian century?	95
5.7 - There is life after the sale	96
5.7.1 - Does the automotive industry understand the car buyer?	97
5.8 - New business models	99
5.8.1 - Systems integration	99
5.8.2 - Mobility providers	100
5.8.3 - CSR leadership	100
5.8.4 - Manufacturing excellence	100
5.8.5 - MFR	101
5.8.6 - Intel™ inside	101